Campus life

Discover why our student experience is voted best in Australia.

Campus life at the University of Sydney is a unique and unforgettable experience.

We're ranked the Best Student Experience* in Australia, boasting more than 200 student clubs and societies, 43 sports clubs, 4 live performance spaces, 2 fitness centres, 12 cafés, and 8 bars on campus.

– sydney.edu.au/campus-life

The University of Sydney Union (USU)

A student led, not-for-profit organisation that invests all funds back into the student experience and runs many activities on campus. They run the clubs and societies program and support student initiatives on and off campus.

Global Citizenship Award (GCA)

An extra-curricular program providing you with distinctive international and leadership opportunities to prepare you for your future as a global citizen.

Sydney University Global Exchange Society

A society made for students by students that share a passion for global education and connecting members with interests in study abroad, travel, culture and the ultimate student lifestyle. From social events to travel getaways, there are so many fun opportunities to meet others just like you!

– facebook.com/SUGExSoc/

Sport and fitness

Sydney Uni Sport and Fitness offers a huge range of facilities, programs and campus events to keep you healthy and active. You can get involved in athletics, swimming, tennis, golf, hockey, soccer, rugby union, rowing, scuba diving, skiing and more. Whether you want to play at the competitive level or just socially, there's an option for you.

Social program

Once you arrive at the University of Sydney, the Sydney Abroad team are here to answer your questions and welcome you to our campus community. We offer a wide range of services to help you make the most of your time here and develop skills and strategies to enjoy university life to the fullest. Here are just a few of the ways we can support your health, welfare and academic life.

Orientation

Orientation is an action-packed opportunity to dive into the social and academic experiences of campus life. It's a great time to make friends, attend welcome events, and enjoy a variety of entertainment. Sydney Abroad orientation starts with Intro to Sydney sessions two weeks prior to semester. The official welcome and enrolment advising events take place during the week before classes begin.

– sydney.edu.au/orientation

Mates Abroad

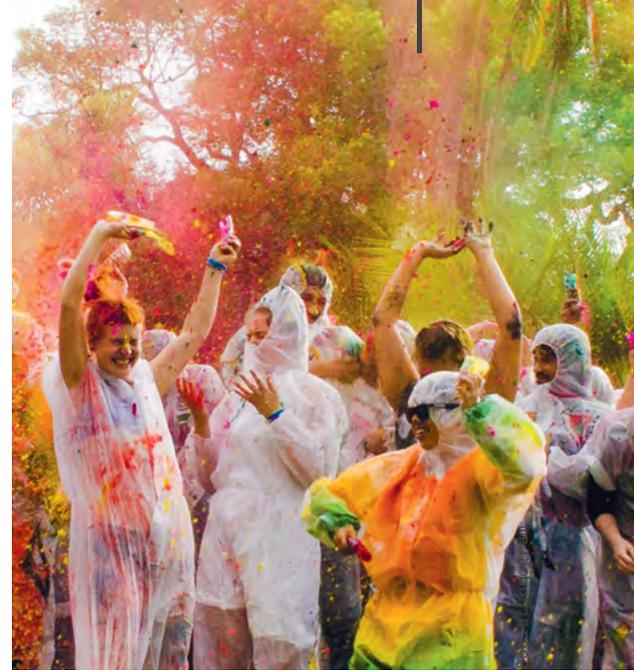

Each semester, hundreds of study abroad students are paired with like-minded, enthusiastic local student mentors to ease their transition into Sydney life, create new friendships, and share exciting adventures in Australia together. Every study abroad student is invited to opt-in to this program via email at the beginning of their semester abroad.

– facebook.com/groups/matesabroad/

Socials

Coordinating with the Global Exchange Society, we run social events such as a Sydney harbour cruise, breakfast with koalas, Aussie football game, surf camp, city tours and tons of BBQs. The USU also runs the three-day O-Week Festival during Orientation Week in February before Semester 1 (the largest event of its kind in Australia), and a smaller event in August for Semester 2.

Our researchers and teachers

The passion and brilliance of our academics continues to ensure we are one of the world's top research universities.

As a member of Australia's prestigious Group of Eight network, we are among the best in the world. You'll have the opportunity to learn from our inspiring academics who pursue research excellence with the latest innovative technology. It is due to the outstanding calibre of their work that we continue to rank among the top teaching and research universities in the world. Our teachers are leaders in their field and offer progressive curriculum that is consistently fuelled by new research.

What sets the University of Sydney apart?

Exceptional facilities, an innovative edge and the drive to challenge traditional ways of thinking. Our students have the opportunity to be part of this: contributing to research that pushes the boundaries and makes a meaningful, real-world impact.

The award-winning Ladybird in action on a beetroot farm in Cowra. Created by robotics expert Professor Salah Sukkarieh.

“The University of Sydney is an amazing university with great diversity in students, class opportunities, and social experiences. Even though I was 10,000 miles from home I felt at home right away. The professors I had were all very passionate about their subjects, and I learned a lot in my classes. Australia is such an amazing country and I was able to learn so much about it and see a lot! The people I met will be lifelong friends. I am already looking forward to going back to Sydney.”

Sally Gillis
George Washington University, USA

“I work with study abroad students, introducing them to the benefits of experiential learning through unique field trips into some of Australia’s World Heritage listed National Parks. Through this work, I have developed a strong passion for creating transformative learning experiences in wilderness settings, and helping my students to maximise their learning to benefit their future profession and personal life.”

Dr Wayne Cotton

Associate Dean, Teacher Education, School of Education and Social Work

“I had a desire to see my work applied to the benefit of humanity. The fact that new materials play a major role in driving new technologies led me to choose materials research.”

Professor Marcela Bilek

Materials scientist, Faculty of Science

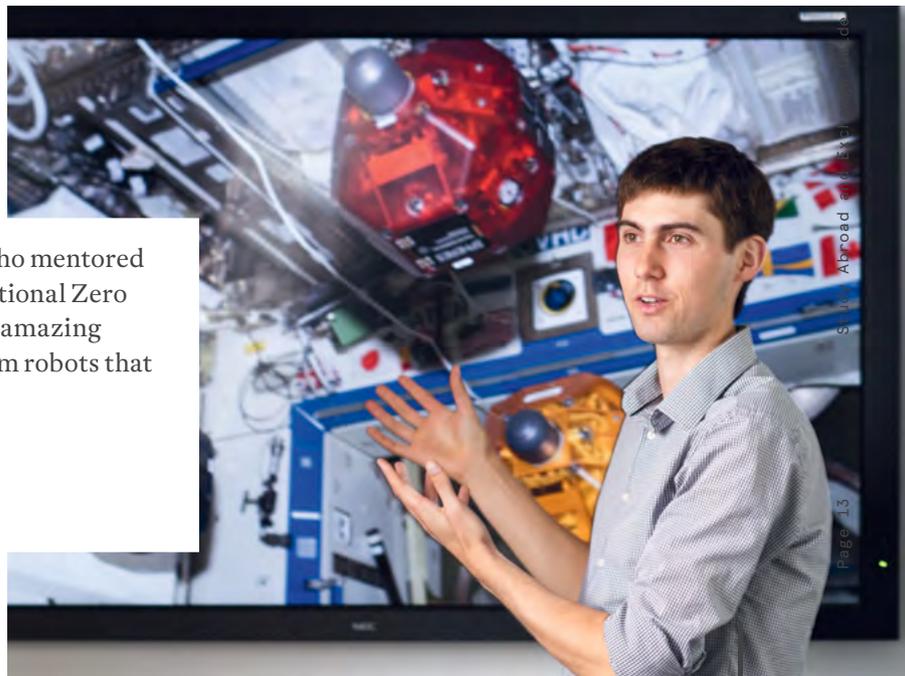

“I led a team of students from the University who mentored high school students competing in the international Zero Robotics competition. These mentors had the amazing experience of helping their students to program robots that live on the International Space Station.”

How to search for a unit of study

We have more than 2500 units of study available to Study Abroad and Exchange students.

We've made the search easier for you by creating units of study lists to help you find subjects. From discipline specific to thematic lists, you can easily navigate our thousands of units of study.

Step 1

You can use our unit tools to find your desired options:

– sydney.edu.au/study-abroad-units

Step 2

Select your preferred list: Master, Thematic or Department. This will take you to a current unit list.

Step 3

Where a unit name grabs your interest, follow the link for more information, and it will take you to the unit's course page.

A unit of study is a term we use for a subject or class.

“It’s literally the best decision I’ve ever made in my life. Having the opportunity to attend this university, that offers a wide range of units of study and also meeting new people from all over the world definitely changes your life.”

Hector Ruiz
Tecnológico de Monterrey, Mexico

Internships

Combining your study abroad experience with an international internship can help you stand out in a competitive job market.

Complement your academic study with relevant industry or research experience. Interns complete a minimum 120 hours in an industry or research placement with one of our many partners or academics. The Internship unit of study is worth 6 credit points, and taken alongside your other units of study.

- sydney.edu.au/sydney-abroad-intern

There are three intakes:

Semester 1 March–June (13 weeks)

Short Term May–July (6 weeks)

Semester 2 July–November (13 weeks)

Parallel to your work placement are five professional development workshops, academic readings and a range of assessments including a final project report.

We help facilitate the process for our students to enter their chosen profession. Interns have the chance to develop familiarity with the Australian workplace culture while applying their academic learning in real workplace situations. They also enhance their communication, cross-cultural and interpersonal skills, and gain a competitive advantage in the graduate employment market by developing global connections.

“When reflecting on whether or not I think it was worth it to do the internship while here in Sydney, I believe I made the 100% correct decision. Although it did take away some of my time at the beach and it was a lot of work. It really did benefit me more than any other class would have at Uni. I would definitely recommend to anyone to do an internship when coming to Sydney.”

Logan Woods

Accounting and Finance Intern, Pennsylvania State University, USA

Our internship areas

Our host partners offer placements in the following roles and industries. This list is non-exhaustive and we can accommodate other placement interests as required.

- Accounting, Economics and Finance
- Business and Management
- Charity, Conservation and Social Enterprise
- Education
- Engineering, Information and Communication Technologies
- Events, Public Relations, Marketing and Social Media
- Media and Communications
- Retail and Fashion
- Science and Research
- Sport and Fitness.

Eligibility

- Be a Study Abroad applicant and satisfy all entry requirements
- Have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher on a 4.0 scale, or an average of 'C' or better on the ECTS grading scale
- Have completed at least 1 year of university study

How to apply

Step 1: In your Study Abroad course application, select 'Yes' to indicate your Internship interest

Step 2: You should also list ARTS2600 in your application's unit of study list.

Placement is competitive and based on key performance indicators such as GPA, prior academic studies and goals, as well as the interests of the applicant and host. Though every effort is made to place all eligible applicants, placement is not guaranteed.

Semester programs

We have many options available for both undergraduate and postgraduate students wishing to study at Sydney. Students coming for semesters 1 or 2 need to enrol in a full time credit load of 24 credit points.

Study Abroad

Every year, we welcome hundreds of students who participate in one of our study abroad programs. Some come for our academic reputation and wide range of courses, while others wish to experience our vibrant student life bolstered by our guaranteed accommodation and unique Internship program. Students can come for 1 or 2 semesters and tuition fees apply.

Study Abroad fees*

Exchange

We have exchange programs with more than 290 partner universities in over 40 countries. If you're enrolled at one of our international partner universities, you may be eligible to apply for exchange. When you come as an exchange student, your tuition fees are paid to your home university while you study at Sydney.

If your home university has a partnership with us, you first need to apply to your home university's international exchange program.

You will need to be nominated by your home university before applying to the University of Sydney. Once you receive your home university nomination, we welcome you to follow the steps on how to apply.

More information

Consult our Global Mobility Database to find out if your home university is one of our exchange partners.

Special programs

Short term

Each unit of study is taught in an intensive format while maintaining credit point values and academic integrity. Most unit of study options are taught alongside full-degree students and provide hands-on experiential learning in an Australian cultural context. Students can choose either 1 or 2 units of study, one of which can be our credit-bearing Internship.

Short term fees*

1 unit of study $3075 AUD
2 units of study $6150 AUD

*Indicative rate for 2019, official rates will be published online.

Gap and first year students

For those just finishing secondary school or in their first year of university study, this program is an excellent way to earn credit at the University of Sydney. With over 180 semester-long units of study with no pre-requisites or assumed knowledge, you're spoilt for choice. The flat rate study abroad semester-long program tuition fees apply. Gap and first year applicants will be assessed on their secondary qualification and need to meet our English entry requirements.

“Meeting people from all around the world in a beautiful country and city. The best class I took was one of the electives (Outdoor Education) and it was an amazing experience! Being able to go on a field trip to the Royal National Park and camp in the Blue Mountains for a class was an opportunity I’ve never had before and I was actually sad when the class was over. Our instructor was also an incredibly kind and passionate teacher, which made the experience even better.”

Zoe Martin
University of Toronto, Canada

How to apply

Step 1: Check if your home university has a partnership with the University of Sydney

If they do, you need to contact your home university. They will then contact us with their nomination.

– sydney-au-sa.terradotta.com

Step 2: Search Study Abroad or Exchange, and find your course

Your course will differ depending upon your nomination, program (Study Abroad or Exchange), level of study (undergraduate or postgraduate), and duration (one or two semesters).

– sydney.edu.au/courses

Step 3: Access your online application

Click Apply on the course page to start your application. You can save and return to it later.

Step 4: Submit your application

You should include:

- Your current transcript
- Evidence you have met our English entry requirements
- A copy of your passport
- Your unit of study preferences

Step 5: Your offer letter

Your application will be assessed and if successful, you will receive your offer letter via email.

Step 6: Accept your offer, and if applicable, pay your tuition and OSHC

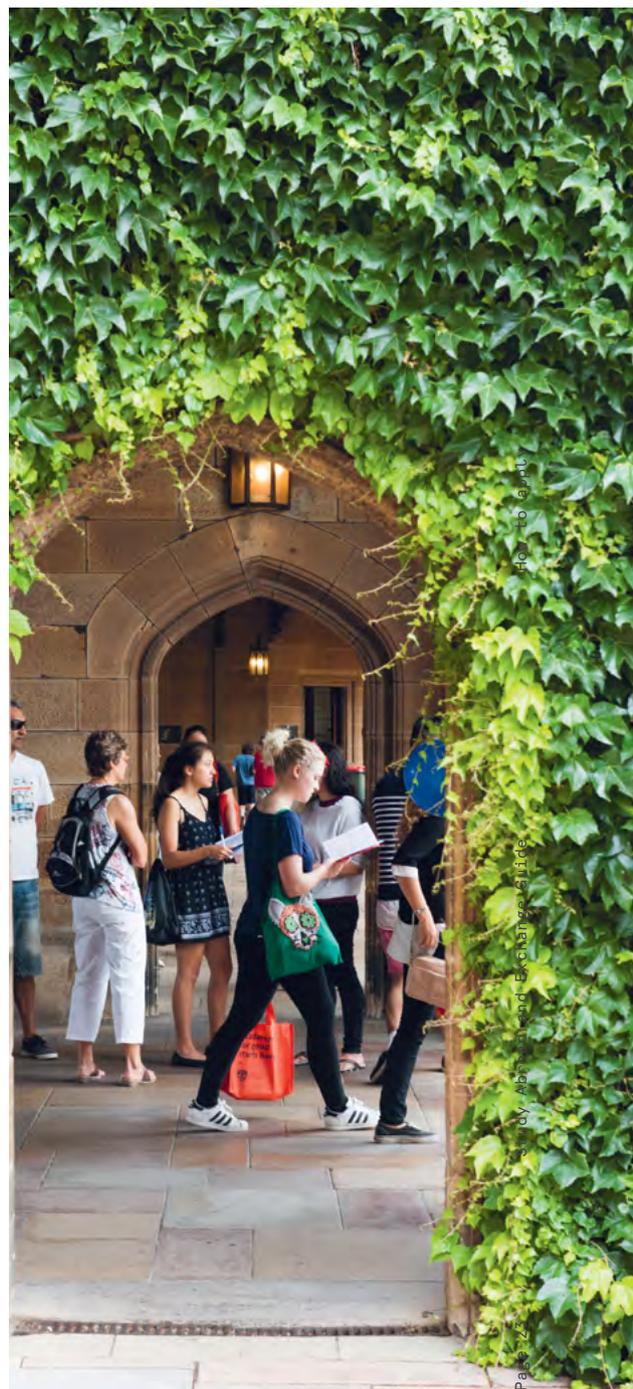

Log in to your Sydney Student and respond to your offer. If applicable, you need to pay your tuition, deposit and/or overseas student health cover (OSHC).

Step 7: Receive your Confirmation of Enrolment (CoE)

You need your CoE for your visa application.

Step 8: Confirm your visa and start planning your travel to Sydney!

Ensure you arrive before Orientation.

Eligibility

Before you apply, please make sure that you understand our eligibility criteria.

- Nomination from your home university if they are an exchange partner of the University of Sydney
- You need to have achieved a cumulative grade point average of 3.0 on a 4.0 point scale, or an average grade of 'C' or better on the European ECTS grading scale (or equivalent)
- Meet the English entry requirements

English entry requirements

If English is not your first language, you will need to demonstrate English proficiency by meeting the minimum score of one of the English language test methods below:

- IELTS – overall score of 6.5, with a minimum 6.0 in reading, listening, speaking and writing
- TOEFL iBT – overall score of 85, with a writing minimum of 19 and reading, listening and speaking minimum of 17
- TOEFL PBT – overall score of 565 with a writing minimum of 4.5
- Cambridge English: Advanced (CAE) – overall score of 58, with a borderline section minimum

- Cambridge English: Proficiency (CPE) – overall score of 45
- Cambridge English Scale (from 2015) – overall score of 176, with 176 section minimum
- Pearsons Test of English (PTE) academic test – overall score of 61, with a 54 section minimum.

If you can provide evidence that you've completed a full-time year of study in an English-speaking country, or at a university where the language of instruction is English, this may be sufficient to demonstrate proficiency.

- sydney.edu.au/study/english-reqs

Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC)

Health insurance is compulsory for most international students who are studying in Australia.

It is a condition of your student visa that you maintain Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC) for the duration of your studies. This cover needs to be arranged before you can apply for your student visa. The University's preferred OSHC provider is Allianz Global Assist and if you indicate that you'd like us to arrange your OSHC then we will arrange the necessary type and length of cover. This is arranged once you have paid for your OSHC cover.

- Cost: $330 for 6 months (2018 rate)

If you'd like to arrange your OSHC cover, immigration have approved providers.

Eligible citizens of Norway, Sweden, Belgium covered by reciprocal health care arrangements are exempt from OSHC.

Accommodation

Choosing where to live will be one of the biggest decisions you'll make after deciding to study in Australia. We provide peace of mind in finding a place to live by offering our students guaranteed accommodation at Urbanest or Queen Mary Building, student accommodation buildings within a 15 minute walk to campus and located on the doorstep of downtown Sydney.

We have negotiated a special 20-week contract rate and length for Study Abroad and Exchange students. Contracts start the week before Orientation and finish the week after the final exam period, meaning students don't pay for several additional weeks they wouldn't use. Your study abroad adviser will provide more information when you apply.

"I lived at the Urbanest on Cleveland Street and I was very pleased with the quality of housing. I was also happy to find that a majority (if not, all) of the residents were University of Sydney students, which helped me to meet new people and make friends during my semester here."

Jennifer Rohde
Cornell University, USA

Live on campus

The University has eight residential colleges on the Camperdown/Darlington Campus, including International House, a residential community of global scholars. The University also offers furnished rooms in shared or self-contained apartments and houses, with multiple room types available, usually located within walking distance of the Camperdown/Darlington, Cumberland and Camden campuses.

Live off campus

More than 90 percent of our students live off campus, and the University's Student Accommodation Services can also help you find accommodation nearby. Our website can also give you helpful advice on where to live, costs, and other accommodation options. For more information visit:

“Sydney is absolutely amazing. The people are great, the nature and places are great. When the weather starts to warm up, I cannot think of a better place to be. I strongly recommend it to everyone considering going on exchange!”

Mari Senstad
University of Bergen, Norway

Every spring, the Sculptures by the Sea event attracts thousands of visitors to the coastline exhibit on the walk from Bondi to Coogee.

“Studying at University of Sydney has been a once in a lifetime experience. The academia was rigorous and engaging, and provided me with a broader scope of knowledge and experience. From the first day, the University of Sydney staff and faculty made this campus feel open and comfortable, making me feel less anxious about being far from home. I’ve had countless incredible experiences here with the friends I’ve made, and will remember my time here with so much joy and nostalgia. I’ll never be ready to leave, and I’ll always be ready to return.”

Amanda Davis
UNC Chapel Hill, USA

‘I had the chance to meet some of the most inspiring and creative lecturers ever. Besides their outstanding standard of studies, the University offers unbelievable social life for students. You can attend numerous events each week and you won’t be able to cross the campus without bumping into new opportunities to enrich your experience. There’s no other place like the University of Sydney!’
