ACADEMIC AND ADMINISTRATIVE APPOINTMENTS

Asa Griggs Candler Professor of Law (7/2024 - present)
Emory University School of Law
Atlanta, Georgia

Research

My research and scholarship focus on health law and policy in the United States and comparative health law, with a focus on the United States, Canada, and Australia. Major fields of interest within health law include public health law, reproductive health law, health care financing and conflicts of interest in health care and research.

Teaching

My major areas of teaching interest and expertise include Torts, Health Law, Comparative Health Law, Public Health Law, and Reproductive Health Law

Visiting Appointments: Program on American Law, University of Warsaw Faculty of Law and Administration (May 2026); Melbourne Law School (Senior Fellow, 2024).

Dean and Asa Griggs Candler Professor of Law (7/2019-6/2024)
Emory University School of Law
Atlanta, Georgia

During my term as dean, Emory University School of Law had approximately 60 full-time faculty members, 150 adjunct faculty members, 800 Juris Doctor students, 60 Juris Master students, 30 LLM students and 7 SJD students. More than 13,000 Emory Law alumni spanned the globe as leaders in law, business, government, philanthropy, and education. As Dean, I worked closely with faculty, staff, students, alumni, university leadership and the broader community to ensure that Emory Law provided world-class legal education and research in an accessible and inclusive environment. Accomplishments during my term included significant enhancement of employment and bar passage outcomes, the transformation of the faculty complement with more than a dozen hires, the development of additional JD concentrations and significant modifications to the MLS program, and what was then the largest single gift to the law school and the most successful fundraising year for the law school.

University Service:

- Senior Faculty Fellow, Center for Ethics (2022-2024)
- Member, Dean Search, Rollins School of Public Health (2021-22)
- Chair, Dean Search, Laney Graduate School (2020-21)

Professor (7/2015-6/2020)

Allard School of Law

University of British Columbia

Vancouver, BC Canada

Research and teaching activities focused on health law, comparative health law, and Torts. In addition, I taught Health Law in the Masters of Health Administration (School of Population and Public Health) and supervised LLM and PhD students. Law school and university service included: University Senior Appointments Committee (2018-19), University Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee (2018), Advisory Board, Neuroethics Canada (2008-19), Law School Representative, Allard Prize Committee (2017-19), Law Admissions Committee (2017-18).

Visiting Appointments: On Leave for Appointment at Emory University School of Law (2019-20); Visiting Professor, Hebrew University Jerusalem (May 2019); Senior Fellow, Melbourne Law School (2019, 2017, 2016); Academic Visitor, Faculty of Law at Oxford University, where I also held a Plumer Visiting Research Fellowship at St. Anne's College (April-August 2016); Visiting Scholar, Sydney Law School (October-December 2015); Visiting Scholar, Melbourne Law School (January-March 2016); Visiting Scholar, Petrie-Flom Center for Health Law Policy, Biotechnology, and Bioethics at Harvard Law School (August-September 2015).

Dean and Professor (7/2003-6/2015)

Allard School of Law

University of British Columbia

Vancouver, BC Canada

The University of British Columbia's Allard School of Law had approximately 45 full-time faculty members, 83 adjunct faculty members, 580 JD and 100 LLM and PhD students, and more than 10,000 alumni. As Dean, I worked with colleagues and a wide range of stakeholders to support the development and implementation of an ambitious strategic plan focused on establishing the law school as one of the world's great centers for legal education, research, and engagement through law reform and public service. The law school advanced in national and global rankings, with UBC ranked 31st in the world in the QS World University rankings for Law (2015).

Major initiatives included efforts to enhance academic and research programs while also improving student experiences and outcomes. We revised our mandatory curriculum, enhanced use of innovative pedagogy, expanded experiential learning opportunities, and developed distance learning projects, concentrations, specializations and new course-based masters programs. We secured cooperative law degree programs with other leading global law schools, including Tsinghua University, Hong Kong University, and the University of Melbourne. We invested in enhanced student services, including career services staff, yielding excellent outcomes and improved LSSSE scores. We consulted with students, university and external stakeholders regarding tuition, student financial aid, and access. As Dean, I also led several equity initiatives, including respectful environment programming and enhanced support for indigenous law students. Major external relations activities included enhanced alumni outreach and fundraising, including a $30 million (CAD) gift, the largest gift in the history of Canadian legal education. We developed and completed a $56 million (CAD) new building project with multiple funding streams, including private support of approximately $35 million.

Honors: Distinguished Courage in Law Award, Indigenous Students Law Association, Allard School of Law (May 2015, for support given to the Indigenous Legal Studies Program and the Indigenous Community Clinic).

Selected University-Related Service: As Dean, I worked collaboratively with university leadership and other deans on joint projects and university initiatives.

University of Houston Law Center (1989-03)
Houston, Texas

John and Rebecca Moores Professor (2002-03)(University professorship)
George Butler Research Professor of Law (2001-02)
Professor (1997-03)

Associate Professor (1994-97)
Assistant Professor (1989-94)

Courses taught: Torts I & II, Health Law I & II, Health Legislation, E-Health Law, Health Law & the Constitution, Reproductive Health Law, HIV & the Law, Comparative Health Law, Health Care Reform, Legal Analysis, and Legislation. Excellent teaching evaluations; finalist for University of Houston Teaching Award (1998).

Director, Health Law & Policy Institute (1/2001-5/03)
University of Houston Law Center
Houston, Texas

The Health Law & Policy Institute (HL&PI) is a center for health law research and teaching at the University of Houston Law Center. As Director, I was responsible for externally funded research projects carried out for the Texas Legislature, the development of the health law curriculum, publications, service projects, and governmental relations. The Institute had a budget of over $600,000 per year and coordinated thirty courses taken by approximately 500 JD and LLM students annually. Major accomplishments included: the renewal of special funding from the Texas Legislature totaling $700,000, supporting the recruitment of three tenure track faculty members, and the realignment of the Institute's research projects and publications. The health law program consistently ranked 1st in the United States during my tenure as Director according to the US News & World Report national rankings. (Also served as Associate Director of JD Programs, HL & PI, from 1994-98).

Senior Associate Dean for Academic Affairs (1/1998-12/00)
University of Houston Law Center
Houston, Texas

As Senior Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, I was responsible for academic programs (including JD, LLM, and concurrent degree programs; adjunct faculty; institutes and special programs), faculty development, student services (including advising, admissions, registrar), and career services. My role included significant budgetary involvement. The Law Center had a budget of approximately $16 million and a total JD and LLM enrollment of 1,100. Major accomplishments included: rationalization and improvement of curriculum, enhanced support for research culture including new visiting speakers' series, working with faculty and staff to prepare for successful ABA site evaluation, and coordinating efforts to enhance the Law Center's rankings and reputation.

Other Major Service Activities at the University of Houston:
